

FOOTY TIPPING 2009

Welcome to our first edition of the 2009 Footy Tipping Competition. Hopefully the BOYS will fair a little better than last year with the GIRLS rounding out most of the TOP 10 Spots on the ladder last season!

With 10 rounds completed we are well and truly on our way to sorting out the riff raff from the die hard NRL tipsters....I best pull my finger out and start picking with my head and not my heart!! Here's how it looks so far.....

On the eve of the 1st State of Origin game for 2009 I can't leave without stirring just a little bit.....

Go the MIGHTY BLUES!!!

Andrew, Helen, Liz, Michael and Stephen are all in equal 1st spot on 49 points.

- Peter is snapping at their heels on 48 points
- Ros (Mrs Consistency) is actually behind for a change on 45 points (very disillusioned with all the shonky calls being made in NRL this year....so disillusioned that she nearly even pulled the pin on the tipping comp as well!!)
- Kaitlin is on 43 points and creeping up there!
- Rounding out the dregs is ME (Jen) on 41....but have no fear....everyone that's knows me all too well knows that Jen never gives up till the Fat Lady Sings... and I can't hear her singing YET!!! Those Tigers just need to start doing me proud!!
- Ryan is on 38 and Emily (yes, it's lucky you Em) taking out the wooden spoon so far.
- However, at least she puts her tips in every week.....when Hamish, Janelle and Nat work out what happened to their points in Round 9 then we can also notify everyone of how badly they are performing as well!! At the moment They sit on 36 and 37 points.

With 16 rounds to go, the competition is still anyone's....we all know that it only takes 1 full score to put you up there.....so put your thinking caps on and see if you can pick the teams that the REFEREE wants to win!!!

I seem to be on the sticky end of every close game, week in week out (can't you hear the violins!!!)

Happy tipping till next time!!

Cheers!

Jen & Peter
